DOYLESTOWN IS READY FOR DIST. LEGION REUNION

County Seat Presents A Gala Appearance for Events Tomorrow

PARADE WILL FEATURE

Six Sections in Line of March; Will Hold Large Meeting

DOYLESTOWN, May 27.—This borough is ready for the American Legion's ninth district reunion and rally that will bring 1500 World War veterans to Doylestown tomorrow evening for a gala time.

Every American flag in Doylestown should be displayed on Saturday, the committee in charge of the event suggested this morning in discussing plans. Business houses that desire to in any manner decorate for the occasion will be assisting in an appreciative manner in the preparation of this event.

It will be Doylestown's biggest parade if present plans are carried out in detail. Recently a committee meeting was held at the Atkinson Post rooms when plans for the ninth district rally and the Memorial Day services were completed.

District Commander Benjamin Howarth, of Willow Grove, meet with the executive committee of the Post last night and announced that close to 1500 veterans will be here Saturday.

The parade will form promptly at 6.30 and will get started a short time later. Organizations will form on Shewell avenue and Union street with William K. Fryling, of the Doylestown Post in charge of the affair.

The route of the parade will be from the Armory to Monument Square, south on Main street to Oakland avenue, east on Oakland avenue to Clinton street, north on Clinton street to State street, east on State street to Church street, north on Church street to Court street, west on Court street to Court House and disband.

There will be six sections to the parade that will form as follows:

Massed flags.

Section No. 1: In charge of Deputy District Commander Lair, Bristol Bugle and Drum Corps, Bristol Post No. 382; New Hope Post No. 79; Langhorne Post No. 148; Yardley Post No. 317; Morrisville Post No. 433; Forty and Eight Box Car.

Section No. 2: In charge of Deputy District Commander Patterson. Doylestown Post, Bugle and Drum Corps, Atkinson Post No. 210, of Doylestown; Quakertown Post No. 242; Sellersville Post No. 255; Perkasie Post No. 280; Newtown Post No. 440; Lansdale Post No. 210; Souderton Post 234.

Section No. 3: In charge of Deputy District Commander Talone. Norristown Bugle and Drum Corps, Norristown Post No. 39; Bryn Mawr Post No. 118; Conshohocken Post No. 129; Ardmore Post No. 136; Bala Cynwyd Post No. 355; Narberth Post No. 356; Merion Post No. 545.

Section No. 4: In charge of Deputy District Commander Graham. Bristol Boy Scouts, Fort Washington Post No. 10; Wynwood Post No. 100; Ambler Post No. 125; Glenside Post No. 248; North Wales Post No. 336; Ambler Post No. 414; LaMott Post No. 451.

Section No. 5: In charge of Deputy District Commander Matheiw. Pottstown Cadet band; Pottstown Post No. 47; Collegeville Post No. 119; Royersford Post No. 164; East Greenville Post No. 184; Schwenksville Post No. 203.

Section No. 6: In charge of Deputy District Commander Humphrey. Hatboro band. Jenkintown Post No. 163; Elkins Park Post No. 224; Hatboro Post No. 271; Willow Grove Post No. 308; Cheltenham Post No. 497.

During the evening the A. R. Atkinson Post No. 210, of Doylestown will be host to the veterans. A real evening of entertainment and program has been arranged. Various official organizations of the town including members of Doylestown Borough Council have been given special invita-

—Mr. and Mrs. DeBell, of Merchantville, N. J., will spend the week-end and Decoration Day with Mr. and Mrs. George DeBell, of Maple Beach.

Hunting The Pheasant

This is one of a series of articles being written in the interest of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association.

By Sandy McNab

"Cheer up, old scout, don't look as if the whole world was going to the demnition bow-wows" was Bill's greeting as he breezed into the office with his usual good natured grin. "How's the pup? Is the old shooting iron greased up for real action? Go buy yourself a couple of shells, for we're going after a long tailed rooster tomorrow. I know where he's holding out at; had a straight tip from a good friend of mine, who is a real agriculturalist, raises hay in the summer and cain for the balance of the season." Could any one with a drop of red blood in their anatomy withstand such an onslaught? Down came our feet off the desk, and for the next half hour business was suspended while a very important conference was held.

"B-r-r-r-r," went the alarm clock; it seemed but a moment that we had been lost in the land of "nod." A hasty breakfast; the old hunting coat was resurrected, an extra dose of three-in-one put on the old piece of gas pipe, that was by apology called a gun. A whistle brought the pup out of his kennel, on the rush. How he did try to tell with those wonderfully big, brown eyes, the joy and expectancy of untold pleasure that was to be realized!

Bill was right on the dot. Punctuality is his middle name, when a day in the field is anticipated. At other times Bill is just like the rest of us humans.

How a Ford can be so tarnation cantankerous when you're in a hurry is sure something to ponder over, but at last with a snort and a bang, and much scratching of gravel we were on our way. Bill's friend was certainly true to form, he was still hitting the hay when we drew up before the barn. There are times when discretion appears the better part of valor, so we left our friend to the enjoyment of pleasant dreams, while we quietly wended our way out through the meadow and across to the newly cut corn.

Long streams of bright crimson and gold streaked the eastern sky. The air had that crisp, keen feel that made one's blood tingle as no other tonic that has ever been manufactured by man can do. A white frost lay upon the low places, and the trees upon the surrounding hillsides had taken on a riot of glorious coloring. Nature in all its beauty was there for man's enjoyment, and how few there were who could see or would ever know that as we wander through this life the beauty which an all wise Providence has so lavishly dispensed, for even the least of us, is too often wasted on the desert air.

"Point" a low warning from Bill. His dog was standing as a statue, as though carved from marble, head turned slightly to the side, immobile, slowly the nose was lifted that it might better catch the scent which had faintly been wafted by the light air. Directly in front of Bill, from a low bunch of Indian grass, sprang a magnificent form. Wings beating the air as it climbed into the ether, long tail feathers streaming, resplendent with a sheen upon its beautiful plumage, the noble old cock, king of his own right. Bang! bang! Bill looked at his empty gun, and as we watched the noble sheik set his wings and glide into the haven where his legs would provide safety, cut loose with "By ginger, wasn't he a buster Say, look at the pup."

Off to our right, a few rods away, stood the pup, frozen—that doesn't express it, that pup was just plain paralyzed. He was sure enough rooted to the ground, and he had them too,—one, two, three, four, five, we counted as the brown consorts of the sheik cut loose and made for the next township. The pup had run right into a bunch of hens feeding and they flushed from all about him, but he still held the point. A step forward and out from the side of a corn shock hurtled a long tailed son of his majesty. It was all over in a second, and Bill had scored the first kill—sort of made him throw his chest out, and assume an air that gave the impression of its being an everyday occurrance.

The birds were feeding on the corn, they were there in goodly numbers and as we watched the dogs, and made our misses, with an occasional good shot, it opened up our minds to the fact that a man who is a true sportsman gets a share of enjoyment out of this life that many never realize.

As we plodded back to the farm house, Bill, whose soul had been mellowed by the fact that his hunting coat was bulging, and that two long, pointing tails were extended from its sides, ruminated as he does when he feels at peace with the world. "Do you remember, old timer, how we used to chase all over this country; hunt hard all day, come home at night, dead tired, and perhaps have three or four rabbits to exhibit as evidence. Now we go out for a couple of hours and enjoy real sport. How come; Did it ever strike you that these pheasants didn't just happen to grow here? That this pleasure which you and I, along with thousands of others enjoy is the result of somebody's headwork, together with the good that a little long green can do. And who used their bean box and simoleons but that local Game Association, whose efforts we are always ready to criticize and condemn. They didn't say much, just kept plugging along, putting birds out, feeding them in winter, helping the Game Commission all they could, building up, not tearing down. By ginger! Let's give credit where credit is due. Say, I'm going to join that Association and so are you; let's be regular fellows."

As we neared the house, our host met us with a hearty welcome. Yes, we must stop in and have a cup of steaming coffee, which his good wife had waiting for us. When we left there was a pair of birds for them to admire and hang under the porch on the north side of the house. Were we invited to come again? We were, and if all is well we sure will see that corn stubble next fall.

ELKS ENTERTAIN CHAS. H. GRAKELOW

Head of Elks' Lodge Is Entertained Upon Occasion of 22nd Annual Banquet

NEARLY 300 ATTEND

Nearly 300 members of Bristol Lodge No. 970, B. P. O. Elks, gathered on the occasion of the 22nd annual banquet last night, in St. Mark's Hall.

There were a number of distinguished Elks in attendance and the Hon. Charles H. Grakelow, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, was the guest of honor.

Howard I. James, Esquire, was toastmaster of the evening and Grand Exalted Ruler Grakelow was presented by Pemberton M. Minster, president of the State Elks' Association.

Mr. Grakelow in his remarks paid high tribute to the Bristol lodge and also told of the excellent work which the Elks in general, throughout the country, are doing for the advancement of humanity. He mentioned what the lodge as a whole had done in times of devastation and calamities.

Past Exalted Ruler John Y. Turner was presented with a handsome watch as a token of esteem and appreciation for the work he had done as head of the Bristol lodge.

A handsome Wilton rug made at the mills of the T. L. Leedom Company was presented to Mr. Grakelow.

Among the other distinguished guests from the Philadelphia lodge were the following:

Exalted Ruler Arthur Bittong; Esteemed Leading Knight Dr. E. M. Bartlett; Esteemed Loyal Knight George B. Wobensmith; Secretary H. J. A. Newton; Secretary to Grand Exalted Ruler E. Furey Ellis, and District Deputy William Ramsey.

St. Mark's Hall was beautifully decorated and there was a sumptuous menu served.

There were Elks from nearby towns in attendance. The members of the Lodge make these anniversary banquets occasions for renewing old acquaintances.

High School Dance Will Be Held Tonight

The big invitation dance announced for last night in the high school auditorium is to be held this evening. The committee in preparing copy for the advertisement inadvertently made a mistake in giving the date of the affair.

It is regretted that some folks were inconvenienced last evening in going to the auditorium and finding that the affair was tonight instead of last evening.

Paul Bonner's Gladimere Crest orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

DONATION

At the last meeting of the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus, at Chicago, Ill., a donation of $50,000 was voted for the Mississippi Flood sufferers. $25,000 of this was given the Red Cross to use according to their judgment and the other $25,000 to the K. of C. councils in that district to be distributed according to their discretion.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

Class No. 7 of the First Baptist Sunday School will hold a strawberry festival June 11th on the parsonage lawn.

—The Misses Lippincott, of 230 Mulberry street, will entertain on Memorial Day, Miss Isabelle Boyer, of Audubon, N. J., and their nephew, Mr. Leslie Ransom, of Collingswood, N. J.

—Mrs. Mode Allison, of 309 Radcliffe street, accompanied by her son, Mr. William Hyatt, of Trenton, N. J., will spend the holiday week-end in Atlantic City, N. J.

—Mrs. H. L. Groome, of Philadelphia, will be a Saturday, Sunday and Memorial Day guest of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis E. Ratcliffe, of 342 Jefferson avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Zebley, of 188 McKinley street, will entertain over the week-end and Memorial Day, Mrs. Zebley's sister, Miss Ruth Bechtold, of Philadelphia.

TWO STUDENTS ARE HONORED BY LEGION AND GIVEN MEDALS

Boy and Girl from Junior High Are Very Highly Praised

PRESENTATIONS TODAY

John Leslie Kilcoyne Represents Bracken Post And Makes Presentations

Two students of the Junior High School were honored this morning when at assembly exercises they were presented with medals awarded for qualities of character by Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion.

The girl and boy of the Bristol school to be thus distinguished among the public school students are Hilda Taylor, Bath street, and Frank Sugalski, Beaver street.

The presentations were made by John Leslie Kilcoyne, attorney-at-law, who represented the American Legion. Mr. Kilcoyne was introduced by Warren P. Snyder, principal of the high school, and was accompanied by I. Johnston Hetherington, likewise a member of the local post of the American Legion.

The award presented to young Sugalski is of bronze, and was designed by the eminent sculptor, R. Tait MacKenzie. The conception is a noble one, and on one side appears the American Eagle and the emblem of the American Legion with the engrossed words: "American Legion School Award for Courage, Honor, Service, Leadership, Scholarship."

In telling of why the American Legion wishes to encourage these qualities in the young students of today, Mr. Kilcoyne stated that the Legion hopes to perpetuate the qualities in the boys and girls that helped to win the great World War. "These medals bear the characteristics which mark true manhood and true womanhood."

Mr. Kilcoyne then spoke of the humility that goes hand-in-hand with honor and courage and service, and in well-chosen words described the preparation and epoch-making flight of Lindbergh. "He is a typical American boy," he remarked.

Following his receiving of the medal, and the button which is a replica of the medal, Frank Sugalski thanked the girls and boys and likewise the instructors for their confidence in him and for their votes in his favor.

The medal received by Miss Taylor is likewise of bronze, and was also designed by MacKenzie. On the one side appears the American Eagle and the emblem of the American Legion with the words: "American Legion School Award for Courage, Character, Service, Companionship, Scholarship." On the reverse side is a figure representing a girl holding in her hand the American flag with a border inscription "For God and Country," and the inspiring motto "Semper Fidelis." Miss Taylor expressed her appreciation to her fellow-students and the instructors who made it possible for her to be awarded such.

Hulmeville

On next Friday evening, June 3rd, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the William Penn Fire Company will conduct a strawberry festival at the fire station. Besides strawberries, ice cream and cake, there will also be placed on sale "hot dogs" and soft drinks.

Besides the sketch "Help Wanted," a drill, and vocal and piano solos will feature the entertainment which the Epworth League of the M. E. Church will present on the church lawn next Wednesday evening at 7.15 o'clock. Ice cream will be placed on sale at the conclusion of the program.

RISING LIVING STANDARDS

Unsatisfactory spots have blinded some to the general prosperity the United States has been enjoying for several years and continues to enjoy in greater and greater degree. It may be impossible to show these nearsighted pessimists that the nation has never before known such prosperity in time of peace, but if anything will convince them it is the figures on the national income of the country.

The people of the United States last year had a combined income of $78,649,000,000. This is the equivalent of $671.43 for every man, woman and child and of $1805.37 for every person gainfully employed.

Contrary to a popular belief, the country's greatest increase in national income since 1909 was not during the war, but since 1920. The increase came after the boom and inflation years were over, prices had been deflated and industry and commerce had settled down to a peacetime and fairly stable course.

These statistics show better than anything else can that the American people can afford to pay for the higher standard of living they demand and enjoy. They reflect a period of little unemployment and wage cutting, and are the more significant because of the gradual decline in living costs since 1920.

The first quarter of this year produced many causes to hope that the national income for 1927 will be appreciably higher than that for last year. There will be such an increase if every producer strives for a record production and works every hour there is work to do. Every "day off" lowers the national income.

DESECRATING A SHRINE

And so they are going to convert Newstead Abbey, near Nottingham, England, into an apartment house. What a pity! It was the home and scene of Lord Byron's childhood, sacred to much happiness and to no little misery when his queer mother went off on a tantrum.

Situated in the heart of Sherwood forest, the country of Robin Hood, it has many associations dating back to the time when Henry II. dedicated it to God and the Virgin in expiation for the assassination of Thomas A. Becket. It was years afterward that Henry VIII. turned it over to Sir John Byron, "little John with the Great Beard." It was in the days of the Byrons that Horace Walpole paid it a visit and was captivated by its beauty. True, a little later the malice of the fifth Lord of Byron turned the axes and saws to work on the great trees, but it was nevertheless still beautiful when Byron was a lad imagining that he could see Robin Hood and his gay men prowling about in the moonlight.

And now—an apartment house!

Of course there has never been much sentimental regard in England for the genius who wrote one naughty poem and many great ones, who died fighting for the liberty of Greece and made himself obnoxious by fighting for liberty in England. Even so, it is a little sad to see the old Abbey turned over to transient tenants, most of whom will know no more about Byron than about the man in the moon, and not half as much as they know about Charles Chaplin. It will not be sacred ground for them.

The practical man puts two and two together and gets four. The dreamer gets twenty-two.

Q. How does the Flat Band Method build longer wear into United States Tires?

A. The Flat Band Method, invented and patented by the United States Rubber Company, puts longer wear into a tire because it is the most precise method of tire building ever developed.

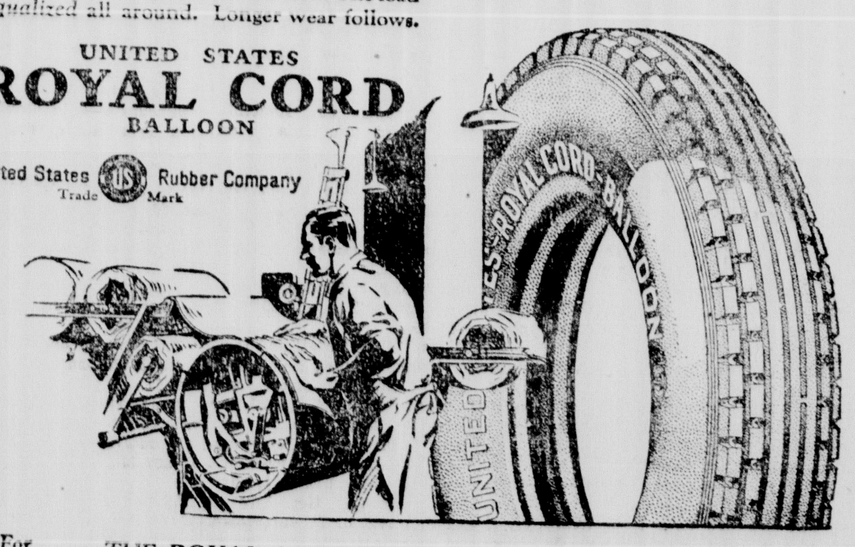

It is comparable to the exact engineering practice of bridge design and construction. Just as the position, length and load of each cable in a bridge are calculated and fixed in advance, so with the cords in a United States Tire.

By the Flat Band Method the plies are laid without tension. The length of each cord is precisely right. The relation of the cords, one to another, is exact.

The result is a tire in which uniform tension and strength of every cord are assured. The load is equalized all around. Longer wear follows.

WOMEN WITH BOBBED HAIR VERY EASILY GET RID OF GRAY HAIRS

With Color Glands Normal Nature Keeps Hair Natural Shade

SENSIBLE ADVICE TO WOMEN TURNING GRAY

Everyone knows if their color glands and hair roots are active and normal they will continue indefinitely to have rich, natural colored hair entirely free of gray, or off-colored locks, so why use dyes or tints?

A doctor several years ago asked himself this question: "If with certain medicines I can stimulate my patient's other organs, why not rub a stimulating tonic into the scalp that will revive, strengthen and tone up these inactive glands so that nature in her own inimitable way will resume putting plenty of pigment into the hair tubes? Surely the hair will then again resume its original shade and color regardless of the users age or previous condition of their hair.

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY

He didn't want an artificial dye or tint and it of course must be harmless and something that could be used for years and years without the slightest injury to hair or scalp. Just like a tonic that builds up a person's strength after some long wasting illness, he wanted a tonic that would revive and stimulate the inactive, weak, or dormant hair roots and color glands.

Under the name of Lea's Hair Tonic anyone may now purchase the scalp food and tonic he finally perfected. For several years hair dressers and specialists have been using it. Results are so natural, gradual and nice that men as well as women use it.

It doesn't stain the scalp. One's friends seldom notice the gradual change and to test what it will do one need only apply it to some small spot for a week or two and watch results.

Men and women in all walks of life have been amazed at the younger appearance that come with the disappearance of gray hairs from their head. Evidently one need never become gray if they keep the scalp and roots toned up with an occasional massage with Lea's Hair Tonic.

If any reader desires to try a bottle of Lea's Hair Tonic on the maker's absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back, they should purchase a bottle at the drug store or pin a dollar bill to this advertisement and send with name and address plainly written to Lea's Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md. $1 bottles parcel post anywhere with full directions.

No one need have gray or off-colored hair any more.—(Adv.)

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias to me directed, will be sold at public sale, on Friday, the tenth day of June, 1927, at 10 o'clock A. M. (standard time), at the Sheriff's Office, in the Borough of Doylestown, Bucks County, Pa., the following real estate, to wit:

ALL THAT CERTAIN lot or piece of land, situate in the Township of Bristol, County of Bucks and State of Pennsylvania, being Lot No. 8 of Section 36, Plan No. 3, described together according to a plan and survey of lots of the Croydon Land Company for Otto Grupp made by Charles Henry Moon, C. E., on the twenty-fifth day of July, A. D. 1918, and recorded in the office for recording of Deeds for the County of Bucks at Doylestown, in Plan Book No. 1, page 58, etc., bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the easterly side of Wyoming Avenue at a corner of Lot No. 9, as laid out on said Plan; thence extending along Lot No. 9, North seventy degrees sixteen minutes East one hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (198.85) feet to a point; thence extending South nineteen degrees twenty-six minutes East fifty (50) feet to a point in Lot No. 7, as laid out on said Plan; thence extending along Lot No. 7 South seventy degrees sixteen minutes West, one hundred ninety-nine and seventy-hundredths (199.70) feet to a point in the Easterly side of Wyoming Avenue as laid out on said Plan; thence extending along the Easterly side of said Wyoming Avenue, North nineteen degrees twenty-six minutes West, fifty (50) feet to the place of BEGINNING. BE the contents thereof more or less.

The improvements are a frame bungalow 30x45 feet containing 6 rooms on the first floor and 2 rooms and attic on second. There is also a frame kitchen attached 14x18 feet.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of William Robert Foster and to be sold by

HORACE E. GWINNER, Sheriff.

Doylestown Is Ready For District Legion Reunion

tions to be the guests of the Atkinson Post Saturday evening.

When the parade falls out at the Court House Park the festivities will then start in the Court House. Singing will be led by Frank J. Gerlitzki, of war-time fame and his famous Liberty Loan sextette. There will be addresses of welcome by Post Commander Walter Trainer, of the Doylestown Legion, and by Chief Burgess Calvin S. Boyer, of Doylestown. Master of ceremonies will be District Commander Benjamin Howarth.

Short addresses will be given by Dan Strickler, of Lancaster, Vice-Commander of the Department of the East; James Dieghan, of Philadelphia, state adjutant, who will speak of the trip to France next fall; Father Wolfe, of Philadelphia, national chaplain of the American Legion; Admiral Magruder, commandant of Philadelphia Navy Yard; and Colonel Ed Hollenbach, grand chef de gare of the "Forty and Eight."

There will be a quartet of entertainers from Philadelphia to entertain between the speeches at the Court House.

After the Court House meeting the veterans and guests will go to the Sixth Regiment Armory where the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Doylestown Post will have prepared a real army lunch for all in attendance.

Tonight the decorating committee in charge of Harry Hobensack, of the Doylestown Post, will meet to decorate the big court room where the reunion meeting will be held.

RELIEF FOR ALL WHO HAVE PILES

Tests over a period of five years in thousands of cases prove internal treatment and removal of cause is the one quick, harmless, painless, effective way to give pile sufferers real relief. Doctors agree and it means one need bother no more with salves and suppositories.

No matter how long or severely you suffer—just swallow two small harmless pills three times daily with a little water and in 24 hours in many cases and shortly after in even bad cases the piles and suffering go away completely. One user says:

"While in your city a year ago I was suffering terribly with piles. One of your leading physicians advised an immediate operation. Friends suggested trying those wonderful Colac Pile Pills first, which I did with marvelous success. After taking one bottle I was entirely cured." Signed, Geo. E. Gilson, 112 Redfield Place, Syracuse, N. Y.

Anyone may get the same results. Colac Pile Pills are made in the World's largest Laboratory of finest ingredients—harmless to the most delicate person—in a few hours sit down in comfort—sleep in peace. By all means get a bottle if suffering now. Colac Pile Pills 60c at drug stores, or by return mail in plain package on receipt of price.—Colac Chemical Co., Inc., Brentwood Md.
